

LEGION'S STATE MEET HAS BEGUN AT DANVILLE

"Uncle Joe" Cannon Reviewed Great Parade

(By the Associated Press)
DANVILLE, Sept. 17.—Prepared for the strife of tomorrow which will produce new state chiefs for the American Legion, the women's auxiliary and the "Forty and Eight," the ten thousand visitors here for the Legion convention tonight joined with the thousands of Danville people in a huge frolic.

When the town clock struck midnight, the business streets witnessed the height of the good natured pandemonium.

Eight hundred members of the "Forty and Eight" who are professional experts in creating such a condition led two hundred "prisoners de gare" enchainé out for public exhibition, and thru a mile long gauntlet of gleaming eyes to the Turner Hall which they announced, was selected because of its "ancient association" and the fact their roughness could not hurt it. From the noise Mayor Shouse of Danville, a Methodist preacher, said he would estimate there were "twenty thousand visitors here."

Legion headquarters number the entire gathering at half that. Night fall brought a very different spirit than that of the day, when the Stars and Stripes and Post Standards of eighty Legion posts, led the annual parade of legionnaires past a reviewing stand in which "Uncle Joe" Cannon stood the entire time, bareheaded. About him were veterans of the two other wars.

Grand Army men in the stand recalled that when Uncle Joe first went to congress fifty years ago the Grand Army of the Republic was flourishing as the American Legion is now. Uncle Joe also attended the convention of the legion, but did not speak. His eighty six years have enfeebled him so that he was helped about by two men, one on each side of him.

Election Interest
Elections are the chief interest of the delegates. Tonight it seemed that the prospect in the legion had narrowed down to a three corner contest with John J. Bullington, of Belleville, C. F. Faubare, Chicago, and Winifred W. Knoch, of Naperville, candidates for legion commander who were said to have prospects. Jacob Doyle, of Lake Bluffs, Oscar E. Carlstrom, of Alton and William D. Knight, of Rockford also will be nominated, but will decline the nomination or drop out after a round of complimentary votes, it was said.

It also seemed the legion auxiliary would produce a three cornered fight if the president, Mrs. C. J. Clothier, of Rockford, is not overruled by her friends. She announced tonight she was not a candidate for re-election. With Mrs. Clothier out of the contest it leaves Mrs. W. H. Morgan of Belleville, Mrs. E. Haywood of Berwyn and Mrs. Eva Springer, of Elgin.

The "Forty and Eight" fight seemed to lay between Jesse L. Jones of Rantoul, and commander J. A. McCormack of Great Lakes training station.

TO PROVIDE FOOD FOR FARMERS IN GREAT NEED

Oklahoma Governor May Use Militia for New Task

(By the Associated Press)
OKMULGEE, Okla., Sept. 17.—Promising to use the National Guard to obtain food for starving farmers in Carter and Marshall counties if other agencies fail, was voiced here tonight by Governor J. C. Walton in a speech to an audience said to have been the largest ever assembled here.

The governor declared that in response to pleas from residents of the two counties he had determined to appoint a commission to investigate conditions there and that if the situation warranted he would ask the remainder of the state to divide its goods with victims of "four crop failures."

"And if the state refuses," the executive said, "I will again use that very convenient tool, martial law and take food to those farmers."

Denies Story.
The governor denied that he had in a recent speech at Modell advised citizens to "take a shot at members of the Ku Klux Klan."

"What I said," he declared, "was that whenever a mob of masked men come to your door and try to take you away, you load your shotgun with buckshot and let them have both barrels. If you kill any of them there will be a pardon waiting for you in my office."

"I do not believe that we are near a revolution," the executive continued, "but if you don't want this state to get into an anarchistic condition you had better get behind me and help bring about normalcy so that I can send these militia boys back home."

"It has come to the place where it is a question of survival of the fittest empire and down with the stars and stripes, or down with the invisible empire, and the stars and stripes forever."

The executive was given a rousing welcome when he appeared and numerous bursts of applause interrupted him in the course of his address.

The find was about 300 feet from the Reuss residence. It is believed the mastodon existed 10,000 years ago.

LOWDEN DECRIES TREND TOWARD CENTRALIZATION

Says People to Blame for Increased Gov- ernment Costs

(By the Associated Press)
CHICAGO, Sept. 17.—The constitution of the United States is worth preserving, not to perpetuate the fame of its founders, but because it is the greatest political document of all time, former Governor Frank O. Lowden of Illinois declared tonight in an address before the Union League club at a meeting for the observance of "Constitution Week."

The constitution, Mr. Lowden declared, speaks for itself.

"Under it," he declared, "more happy homes have flourished, a finer manhood and womanhood have been nourished than under any government in the flood of time."

Centralization Danger
Mr. Lowden warned against continuance of the rapid movement toward centralization of the government at Washington. If this goes on, he asserted, the value of the federal principle will be dissipated forever. He also declared that there was a great tendency toward indiscriminate amendment of the constitution. Such a question in the past, he said, had been approached with something akin to a feeling of awe. Of late years, however, he added, an amendment to the constitution has come to be considered as of little more serious nature than the enactment of a new statute.

"We seem to have lost sight of all distinction between what properly belongs to the federal government and what to the state government," he asserted. "Complaint is heard everywhere," he said, "of bureaucracy in Washington and of the increased cost of government. The people themselves are to blame," he declared, "whenever something goes wrong the people affected turn to Washington for relief and if there is no law to give them relief they ask that another law be created and thus multiply the bureaus and the contacts of the government with private business. One disturbing form that the lessening of the self-reliance of the community to take care of itself has taken," he said, "is the apparent inability of the community to maintain law and order within its borders."

Value of Self-Government
Successful self-government of even the smallest community he asserted is the only guaranty of successful self-government in a great country such as America. He added that whenever a community was forced to call for federal aid in preserving law, that community confessed to weakness. However, he said, the law must remain supreme at whatever cost.

PRINCE OF WALES DOING RANCH WORK

(By the Associated Press)
HIGH RIVER, Alta., Sept. 17.—Lord Renfrew, known in England as the Prince of Wales today became a rancher. Although his own ranch, Lord Renfrew didn't pick himself an easy job and was at work at 8 o'clock this morning helping a crew of husky farm hands fill silos with chopped sunflowers. He didn't stand around and watch the boys do it. Wearing the same kind of clothes as his companion laborers, Lord Renfrew did the same kind of work. He took the lead in chopping the silage for the bloated livestock on the ranch.

Because he had just finished a long trip on Sunday Lord Renfrew started the day late and did not arise this morning until 7 o'clock his secretary explained.

The other workers are wondering what time he will get up tomorrow morning.

ARGENTINA FINDS OIL

Buenos Aires, (By the A. P.)—The discovery of what are apparently rich deposits of petroleum in the province of Jujuay, Argentina, has excited industrial interests. Boring made under the direction of the administration of state railways resulted in striking oil at a depth of 530 meters. The well did not prove to be a gusher as at first reported, but a column of oil ascended the tube for a distance of 150 meters, from which two tons were pumped in three hours.

Work was then suspended to await the arrival of storage tanks. The engineers are confident that borings 30 meters deeper will tap an extensive petroleum strata. The oil is said to be of high quality.

The counties in which this action has been taken are Champaign, Clay, Clinton, Franklin, Jefferson, Kankakee, Lawrence, Richland, Scott and Stark.

After hearing the cases of six other counties which had failed to equalize, the state tax commission announced it would order reassessments if the boards of review in these counties did not act on their own accord. These counties are Kane, DuPage, Vermillion, Marion and Montgomery. The sixth county, Clay, already has decreased farm land valuations 10 per cent, it was announced.

Colonel W. S. Key, commanding the local troops, immediately ordered the reinstatement of Police Chief Ray Fisher and machine guns which had frowned on the city hall and county court house were removed.

The belief is current that military rule actually will be extended only to a few sections of the state and this opinion has been strengthened by the fact that only a small part of the strength of the state's national guard forces has been mobilized.

OUTWARD CALM NOW PREVAILS IN OKLAHOMA

Second Day Under Martial Law Passed Without Trouble

(By the Associated Press)
OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 17.—Its two largest cities actually occupied by the military, Oklahoma passed its second day under martial law today without disturbance. Nowhere in the state except at Tulsa and Oklahoma City was martial activity visible.

At these places, however, military courts of inquiry were in session and proceeding with investigations ordered by Governor J. C. Walton into alleged masked depredations and regulations were in effect clearing the streets of traffic and pedestrians between midnight and this morning.

Armed guards were stationed at the entrance of the state capitol, permitting to pass only those who had official business within.

Early tonight word was received from Coal Gate that Judge J. H. Lindebaugh had adjourned the regular session of district court there until Monday next, explaining that he wished to avoid any question as to the legality of the court's right to proceed. This, with the orders issued preventing the convening of a special district court grand jury here this morning, are the only instances of military interference with the courts.

Police Chief Reinstated
Civil authorities here tonight held undisputed police powers following Mayor Cargill's threat to withdraw the entire police department from duty unless the military authorities relinquished control over it. The Court of Inquiry
The national guard court of inquiry which has been in session continually since August 14, when martial law was first declared in Tulsa, has added thousands of pages of testimony from alleged victims of floggers and four men already have been sentenced to the penitentiary on the strength of this evidence. Adjourning late today after interrogating only a few witnesses the military court here is expected to begin tomorrow an extensive investigation into masked activities either directed or executed at Oklahoma City. In this connection observers pointed out that only two instances of mob violence have been brought to light here during the last two years. The lynching of a negro during the strike of packing house workers and the beating of a physician at State headquarters of the Ku Klux Klan remained open today but no statement was made by officials as to the organization's attitude toward the governor's declaration of martial law.

Adjutant General Markham, commanding forces at Tulsa, hurried here today by airplane for a conference with state officials and afterward issued a statement declaring that military rule in the state will be enforced in the same orderly manner as at Tulsa.

He declined to comment on the purpose of his visit.

AMERICAN LABOR

A bit of keen analysis of the labor and immigration situation is made by Elizabeth Frazer in a recent Saturday Evening Post. The trouble is—with the present youthful generation—that they've got the notion that work that's hard on the finger nails carries a social blight. Her comment is that industry, with its cry for unrestricted immigration, is itself largely to blame.

Not in England, Germany, France, Italy or in any European country do the great industrial concerns depend on foreign labor to man their mills; they use their own workers and still manage to get results. The hour is about to strike when the industrialists of America will be forced to do likewise, for human wastage and the high cost of the old, improvident methods are no longer to be endured. The immediate advantage derived from such indiscriminate importation is offset by the permanent injury done to our democratic institutions and ideals. This is a point seldom considered by those who believe America will always have to get her cheap labor from abroad. America has already arrived at the point where no labor is cheap, and where thoughtful people realize that they do not want it to be cheap. They want living standards kept high.

The claim so often heard that Americans will not perform manual labor is specious. For a generation or two the white collar jobs were superior. Naturally, young Americans turned to them. At present the pendulum is swinging back.

The technical schools are to a large extent taking the social blight off the grimy-handed jobs. Nor are the rewards of labor inconsiderable. Outside every building in process of construction may be seen the parked cars of the builders. The white collar men use the common carriers.

THRIFTY EXPANSION

One state announces proudly that 17 of her communities have recently spent an average of nearly $4,000,000 each on such improvements as good roads, office buildings, hospitals, hotels, churches, waterworks, streets, banks, sawmills, etc. Home building and business expansion are progressing surely and steadily. There are two sorts of expansion. That based on actual needs and soundly financed is good. The other sort, gone into heedlessly and financed foolishly, represents extravagance for which taxpayers must pay dearly. American cities frequently find it difficult to tell the difference between the two.

Yet public thrift and foresight are probably quite as attainable as the same virtues in private life. It is encouraging to note that just as family budgets are gaining in favor and successful use, so too are public budgets. For all the outsider knows, the 17 cities referred to may be leaders in this sort of good sense.

What the World Is Doing

AS SEEN BY POPULAR MECHANICS MAGAZINE

Air Chamber Saves Divers Stricken at Work

As a first-aid appliance to save the lives of divers stricken at their work, a large steel tank, in which they are placed, is filled with compressed air to break up and drive out bubbles of gas that cause them to become paralyzed or unconscious. The pressure is started at 30 pounds and increased or decreased as the patient needs it. Even though a constant supply of air is pumped below to a diver at work, the great weight of the water and too long periods underseas frequently overcome him, making quick action necessary to prevent his death.

Animal So Small It Lives in a Drop of Water

So tiny that it can be seen only by aid of a magnifying glass, an animal, heretofore unknown, has been discovered by an eastern scientist. By means of whiplash strokes of hairlike projections covering its body it can move rapidly about in a drop of water. The little creature feeds chiefly on germs and other animals living in the water. It measures about one two-hundredths of an inch long and is less than one-fourth as wide.

Big Blimp to Circle World

The large dirigible airship "ZR-1," now under construction for the U. S. Navy, will be sent on a trip around the world when completed this fall and may later go to the north and south poles. This ship, and the "ZR-3" that is being built in Germany for the navy, the first rigid dirigibles for this country, represent the most improved features in airship design. They will be filled with helium, the non-inflammable gas that is available in large quantities only in the United States.

Pacific's Bottom Is Charted by Timing Sound Waves

Charting the bottom of the Pacific ocean between United States and Australia is the task of a navy cruiser using a delicate apparatus to measure the time required for sound to pass from the surface of the water to the ocean's bed and return. Records are taken every five miles while the boat is moving. Knowing the speed of sound through water and the time elapsing between sending and returning of a signal serves to compute the depth.

Safety Seat Prevents Falls While Washing Windows

For preventing falls while washing windows in the home, a safety seat has been made which swings on two chains attached to hooks in the window frames. A strap stretched between the chains supports the worker's back.

In comfort, at the same time acting as a guard against loss of balance, leaving the body free for movements required in the cleaning.

Basket on Pole Hives Bees Safely

A Wisconsin beekeeper, whose general farm work allows very little time for capturing the swarms that escape his apiary, has found the method illustrated both easy and quick. The device used for the work, he claims, has saved him many hours of labor as well as numerous painful stings.

The device is simple to make. It consists of a circular rim and a supporting fork made of 1/2-in. iron rod, and a cone-shaped screen-wire basket attached to the rim as shown. A stout cane fishpole is used for a handle, making the device light and easy to handle.

When the bees swarm, they usually alight in one of the trees of the orchard, and often at such a height that it is almost impossible to capture them. As soon as the swarm is located and fairly settled, the basket is raised under the swarm and shaken so that most of the bees will drop into it. Of course, many bees escape but they will return to the swarm and cluster on the outside of the basket. When all is quiet again, the basket is lowered in front of an empty hive and the bees are induced to enter their new home without much trouble.

It takes 61 days' work a year to pay the taxes of every producer in the United States, it is estimated. In 1921, taxes consumed 16.7 of all value produced in this country.

Westminster Church News

Westminster church is starting the year auspiciously for a good year's work. The Lincoln film picture was well attended Sunday night; great interest has been shown in this wonderful picture with its splendid uplifting influence.

Mr. Smith is organizing the boys and girls into a choir again for this winter. Such an organization proved quite a success last year. Mrs. H. C. Woltman will be the soloist for the year with Mrs. Edgar Martin at the organ.

The annual congregational supper will be held at the church Wednesday evening at which time a general good time will be enjoyed, and new students attending welcomed, and plans for future developments of the church discussed.

Sept. 30 is the date chosen for the supper at Westminster church for the men of the three Presbyterian churches, Northminster, State and Westminster. There is anticipation for this to be a specially good meeting as Dr. George P. Horst of Chicago is to be the lecturer of the evening, and the gentleman is known to be an especially interesting speaker, and one capable of stirring men's interest in their opportunities for good. Reservations for this banquet are already being made.

LOW WATER CAUSES BOAT CANCELLATION

QUINCY, Ill.—The low stage of the Mississippi river has caused the cancellation of all important steamboat lines between St. Louis and Keokuk, according to Captain Harry G. Drees, president of the steamboat company bearing his name and captain of the steamboat Harry G. Drees.

Officials of the Eagle Packet Company also announced cancellation of trips by the steamer Piasa between St. Louis and Keokuk because of the low stage of the river.

Steamboat company officials are of the opinion that if the Mississippi were as dependable as the Illinois river, transportation would continue thruout the season.

"Once the pollution of the Illinois river is checked, that river will become the pleasure spot for thousands of tourists and resident seekers," say the officials. "Navigation is never halted on this river as it is on the Mississippi."

Many of the shipping companies have established lines between St. Louis and Henry, Ill., instead of running to Keokuk.

LONDON WOMAN DESERTS SOCIETY FOR THE JUNGLE

London, (AP)—"Because I hate society life, the dinners and dances, and the constant striving to wear a prettier dress than the other woman. Some people like it, but I prefer the forest, and camp fire and the rough life."

Such are the reasons given by Mrs. Diana Strickland, a well-known society woman for organizing what she calls "an expedition for adventure and business" that will start soon for Central Africa.

The party will consist of two women, four men, and three boys, on the west coast of Africa, on the west coast of Africa, on the west coast of Africa.

"We expect to be away for 12 months and shall travel 3,000 miles, all on foot," said Mrs. Strickland.

The expedition is limited to six Europeans on account of the food difficulty, for we have to take it all with us, and this necessitates 50 native porters for each person.

"We hope to trade in ivory and do some prospecting, and we are also making a collection for the New York Zoological Gardens, and hope to get an okapi, a giant field hog, and some pigmy elephants."

"We shall be pretty well armed, and even are taking a machine-gun in case of a serious attack. Or that there is little danger. Natives generally attack by stealth and in small numbers."

KU KLUX IN MEXICO

Their only entrance into public affairs has been a campaign conducted at Tacubaya, a suburb.

When your digestion isn't what it used to be—food sours on your stomach, causes heartburn and flatulency (belching of gas), when your tongue is coated and you feel uncomfortable after meals—quit taking soda or any of the drugs that ruin the lining of your stomach and never give you lasting relief.

Build yourself up! Take a delicious tablespoonful of Dr. Thacher's Liver and Blood Syrup after the next meal. Notice the quick improvement in your appetite and digestion. Dr. Thacher's is a purely vegetable tonic, delicious to take and ideally suited to the weakened stomach. It will not only improve your digestion, but will soothe and nourish the overtaxed nerves, wake up the sluggish liver, gently correct constipation, strengthen and invigorate your body and send purer, healthier blood coursing through your veins. It will reawaken that delightful feeling of strength, vigor, energy and "pep" and keep you feeling your best.

Share Dr. Thacher's with the family after the next few meals. The cost is only a trifle and your money will be returned without question if it fails to give complete satisfaction. Get it in Jacksonville from Coover Drug Co.

Human Hair Made Into Cloth Resists Heavy Pressure

Tons of human hair are being turned into cloth by a southern factory to supply the demand of cotton-seed oil mills of that section for a fabric that will withstand, for a time at least, a pressure of 4,000 to 4,500 pounds a square inch. Only that made from hair is strong enough. Formerly it was woven from camel's hair, but the price of that product went to such high levels as to prohibit its use. After a series of tests, a method was devised for weaving human hair in specially constructed machines. The search for a sufficient supply to keep the factory going ended in China, where buyers found a veritable army of coolies ready to sacrifice their long queues for American money. Bound in huge bales, the hair arrives at the factory ready for weaving, having already been inspected and sterilized on the way over from the Orient. Combed and carded, it is twisted into threads and fed into the looms, where it is woven into rolls of cloth 1/2 inch thick, the bolt weighing 400 pounds.

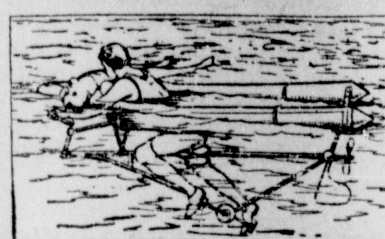

Mule, as Caddie, Carries Bags of Golfers

Because of lack of caddies, a mule is being used on one golf course in the South to carry the bags of the players.

One of the mule's advantages over the human caddie is the fact that he can carry as many bags as can be strapped on his back. Then, too, he works without tips or pay.

Water Bike Aids Life Guards in Saving Drowning Persons

To aid life guards in rescue work, a floating frame supported in the water between two air tanks, enables them to reach danger points quickly. Half submerged, the rider drives a propeller by working pedals with his feet, traveling at greater speed than swimming would permit. The body of the victim may be easily thrown across the front of the tanks and carried to shore.

Tag Fish for Identification

A practical and comprehensive plan has been suggested by the Bureau of Fisheries, to help in studying the habits of various fish such as salmon, codfish, pollock and haddock. A device similar to a tag on a button of aluminum is riveted into the fish's tail. With this system the oceanic migration of fish, their rate of growth in various localities, and age can be determined. The bureau pays 25 cents each for tags sent in if accompanied by place and date of capture, length, weight and sex of fish, and how marked.

Sick Cure With War Gases

Deadly gases developed during the war are now being used to cure disease. Grip, colds, and the "flu" are quickly checked by chlorine gas, say army chemists. Mustard gas is being used to combat tuberculosis, while paraffin, and other diseases, are being treated with some success with "lowisite," a gas of arsenic and acetylene. This was invented for use by American troops.

Auto Lights Under Fenders Remove Strong Glare

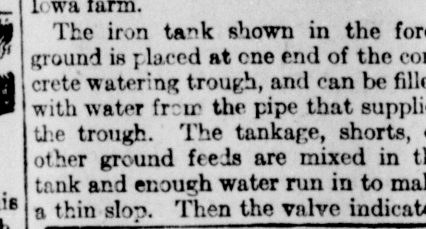

By having all of its rays strike directly on the road ahead, an automobile lamp attached by a single bolt to the underside of the front fender inside the wheel, does away with blinding glare of ordinary high-powered headlights that frequently annoy those driving at night.

Its shaft of light, thrown for 300 feet, is low enough to avoid the eyes of approaching motorists and cyclists, and clearly shows the road from both directions, preventing many accidents and making dimming unnecessary. A bracket allows the level of the light to be raised or lowered with ease.

Mixing Feed for Hogs

The novel method of slopping hogs shown in the drawing has been found a great time and labor saver on an Iowa farm.

The iron tank shown in the foreground is placed at one end of the concrete watering trough, and can be filled with water from the pipe that supplies the trough. The tankage, shorts, or other ground feeds are mixed in the tank and enough water run in to make a thin slop. Then the valve indicated by the arrow is opened, and one of the troughs filled, whereupon the valve is closed again, the pipe swung over to the other trough, and this one filled. The valve and tank, and the inner ends of the troughs, are fenced in as shown, so that the hogs will not interfere with the filling operation.

GOVERNORS IN FAVOR OF SHORTER SESSIONS

Governors of many states present their views on the subject of limiting sessions of state legislatures in the September issue of the Illinois Journal of Commerce. Letters were written to governors of all the states asking whether they believe in short sessions or unlimited sessions. Nearly all favor short and limited sessions. For the past fifteen years sessions of the Illinois Legislature have consumed an average of 175 days. Among the replies received from the governors were the following:

Governor Small, Illinois—"There is no question but sixty days would be ample to transact all the business which the welfare of the state requires."

Governor Morrow, Kentucky—"Sixty days is enough for any legislature to do the real work that is demanded. Sessions in Kentucky are limited to sixty days. I really believe that forty would be much better."

Governor Hyde, Missouri—"In my judgment the limitation of the length of the sessions of the legislature to seventy days as it is in Missouri is a wise limitation."

Governor Preuss, Minnesota—"Minnesota has a ninety days limit on its regular legislative sessions. I am not in favor of extending the time."

Governor Grosbeck, Michigan—"I believe that a time limit should be set and that ninety days are ample in which to sit and pass necessary legislation."

Governor Proctor, Vermont—"There is no limit to the sessions of the legislature in Vermont and I do not favor the establishment of such limit."

Governor McMaster, South Dakota—"The constitution of South Dakota limits the legislative session to sixty days. There is no valid reason why all important legislation cannot be enacted within a sixty day period."

Governor Parker, Louisiana—"In my judgment we have entirely too many sessions of the legislature and too many laws. Instead of having two sessions of the legislature of sixty days each every two years, it appeals to me that it would be infinitely better to have split sessions."

Governor Baxter, Maine—"In my opinion, limiting the session of the legislature is unwise. If a remedy is needed for present conditions, it lies in selecting better men for the state legislature rather than in limiting the time of legislative sessions."

Governor Scruggs, Nevada—"The

Nevada legislative session is limited by the constitution to sixty calendar days. Any legislative session may be speeded up to permit its work in forty or even thirty days."

Governor Nestos, North Dakota—"Our sessions are limited to sixty days ever two years. I am confident that practically the unanimous vote of our people after thirty-four years of experience would be that the sessions should not be longer."

Governor Bryan, Nebraska—"Under the constitution of 1873, our legislative session was limited to sixty days. In 1919 and 1920 Nebraska had a constitutional convention and this provision was eliminated. Now we have no limit whatever."

Governor Walton, Oklahoma—"The Oklahoma legislature can remain in session as long as it sees fit but the law provides that legislators shall only be paid for sixty days at $800 a day and thirty additional days at $200 a day. I think this is a very good arrangement as it tends to speed up the legislature."

Governor Pierce, Oregon—"The constitution of Oregon limits the pay of members of the regular legislative sessions to forty days and of a special sessions to twenty days. It is my judgment that legislative sessions should be limited."

SELLS FLOTO CIRCUS PROVES POPULAR HERE

Thousands Saw Performances Under Big Top Yesterday—Grand Opening Brilliant, Trained Horses and Dogs Numerous—Circus Left Good Impression Here

The Sells-Floto circus has come and gone, and the impression left on the thousands who attended the two performances yesterday will not easily be forgotten. The show came here from Columbia, Mo., over the Wabash, and left late last night over the Burlington for Centralia, where it will make a stand today. The circus is working southward and will probably finish the season in Arkansas or some other southern state.

Every part of the big circus deserves special mention. The entire performance was well balanced and of high quality, and nothing was lacking to enable the two big audiences to pass an enjoyable two hours. The grand opening under the six-pole big top was one of the most brilliant ever seen in a circus here. It was a riot of color, music and orientalisms. The chorus work, with the singers arranged so that the song seemed to rise from all over the big tent, was impressive and novel. The large circus band is composed of skilled musicians and did excellent service throughout the performance.

One of the specialties of the circus was the unusually large number of trained horses, dogs and ponies. At one time the five rings in the tent were filled with performing animals. The star act was of course that of the 12 white horses which occupied the center ring. It was noticed that the animals were treated with great kindness by the ring masters and trainers. The jumping horses formed a novel feature of the circus program and attracted much interest.

The trapeze performances and flying acts gave the audience plenty of thrills. The actors showed high skill and daring. The work of Miss Ward in revolving in the air, with only her wrist as a pivot, about which she turned her whole body 149 times, made a deep impression on the audience.

Many other features of the circus deserve mention, if space permitted. The entire aggregation of circus employees, actors and management proved to be a clean bunch. Nothing of an unpleasant nature occurred during their stay in the city. The Sells-Floto circus is a part of the American Circus Corporation, and makes its winter quarters at Peru, Ind.

PLACE 1,500 FISH IN NEW LAKE HERE

F. L. Sharpe went to Meredosia yesterday and brought back a truck load of especially fine fish which were placed in Mauvaster lake. The fish are of several varieties and are of large size. There were 1500 of the big fellows in the lot.

The fish were brought from the Illinois river, but were raised in the hatcheries conducted by the state. They are almost grown and are already able to bite the hook of the skillet. They will be at home somewhere in Mauvaster lake at any time the tempting worm is let down into their territory.

He was a brother of the late Veerlin Daniels, long a resident of Jacksonville, and is the only surviving member of a family of nine children. Mr. Daniels makes occasional visits to his boyhood home, in which he has maintained an active interest throughout the years.

MEDILL McCORMICK'S SIX YEARS IN UNITED STATES SENATE

(By Richard Lee)

As a basis for consideration of Medill McCormick's record of accomplishment in the United States Senate, particularly as it applies to the creation of the budget system, one should rightfully recall his activities of some years previous in Illinois. There, almost singlehanded, he made the reorganization of the state department and the adoption of the executive budget system the issue in a gubernatorial campaign. He publicly pledged all of the candidates for Governor. Under Lowden that program was put into law by the Legislature. It was upon that program and its fulfillment that Lowden made a very nearly successful campaign for the presidency.

When Medill McCormick was elected to the lower House in Congress (1915) he introduced the first budget bill. The newspapers and magazines were not interested, but he continued to agitate the question. By the time of his election to the Senate (1918) there had been developed a genuine public opinion in behalf of the budget. Representative Good in the House and Senator McCormick cooperated to obtain the appointment of Select Committees on the budget. Now in the midst of the applause for those executing the terms of the Budget Act, there are but few who remember that Senator McCormick had more to do with framing the budget in its present terms than did any one else. As a result of that budget law, we have presented to us the spectacle of continual increasing expenditures by state, city and other local taxing bodies, while there has been a reduction of national expenditures without parallel anywhere in the world.

At the time when the revenue bill was reported out by the Finance Committee (1922) Senator McCormick happened to be in Chicago for a few days. Returning to Washington he found one group of Senators prepared to support Penrose, and the majority of the Finance Committee and another group prepared to support Simmons in his announced intention to restore the war taxes on profits and income. There was a third group mildly protesting against either course. McCormick started a real revolt and became the center of a group of middle western Senators.

Lodge, mindful of the McCormick protest and the growth of the new group of Senators, agreed to help the amendment program if the insurgent forces developed sufficient strength. Shortly thereafter a meeting arranged by McCormick was held in the home of Senator Capper of Kansas. Nearly all the Republicans west of Pennsylvania were there and the revenue bill provided some relief for the smallest taxable income and for those above $80,000 a year was taken under consideration along with the taxes upon transportation and travel and a number of nuisance (consumption) taxes upon articles of everyday use which had been restored by the Finance Committee. At that conference McCormick and Lenroot were authorized to write a series of amendments striking out the travel and transportation taxes and as many of the nuisance taxes as McCormick and Lenroot found it possible to eliminate, and to fix a schedule of income taxes which would relieve the income of those above $80,000 a year. This was done. Holding the English and existing income tax rates before him, McCormick, with Lenroot's approval, dictated to a stenographer the present schedule of income taxes.

The majority of the Finance Committee was compelled to accept the McCormick-Lenroot terms. The House Ways and Means Committee was defiant at first, but finally the House gave in, for which the great mass of the people who would have paid the transportation tax and who would have paid the nuisance taxes may well thank McCormick and his movement which overturned the programs of both Penrose and Simmons. At the same time the movement constituted a great service for the smaller business men who had been misled into the belief that the House schedules of income tax were relieving them when in fact only the lowest bracket and the very rich were getting relief.

McCormick, who had been strong in his denunciation of the hypocrisy of the Wilson administration in the seizure of Haiti and the Dominican Republic and its misgovernment of the two republics, caused the appointment of the Select Committee on the occupation. He was made chairman of the committee that did the work. No formal report was ever made on the Dominican occupation because immediately after the return of the Committee from the Island the Secretary of State based his policy upon the Committee's informal report.

Shortly thereafter, a delegation of prominent Dominicans whose confidence had been won by McCormick, came to this country, met Secretary Hughes with Senator McCormick and solved the problem with a program which called for this: The final funding of the unfunded part of the Dominican debt; the borrowing of the money necessary to complete the public works which had been started by the American occupational forces in the territory of the Republic; the agreement between the State Department and the Dominican leaders under which an election for the Dominican Parliament will be held in August and for President in October when the last Marine will leave the country. McCormick insisted above all things that East to West and North to South highways be completed to insure the economic development of the country and to serve as a preventative of internal disorders and revolutions in the future.

The Haitian problem was more complicated because in a smaller and poorer territory there was a far greater population of which a still larger proportion were illiterate. On Haiti a formal report was made. The McCormick committee found a military regime which maintained peace under martial law and did little more for the people. It was necessary to provide for the gradual concentration and the gradual withdrawal of the Marine forces of occupation, for the appointment of American civil advisers to the various Haitian ministers, to refund the debt, to provide for the payment of interest, to provide for the payment of claims arising out of damage caused during previous revolutions, and to insist that, by degrees, Haitian officers should be trained for the Haitian gendarmerie which had been admirably organized by the American officers.

The McCormick committee, in short, laid down a policy under which gradually a civil regime would be substituted for the military regime and under which the sovereignty and solvency of the Haitian Republic would be maintained. It was necessary to devise a plan under which, through the influence of American civil advisers, an independent Haiti might be taught self-government, might be put on the high road to progress and prosperity with the very minimum of American intervention. Every subsequent report from Haiti has justified that policy. Haitian leaders originally doubtful and opposed to the policy, now approve it. Haitians generally now term McCormick their liberator.

In addition, McCormick has played some little part in the development of our general foreign policy. He was one of the fourteen so-called irreconcilables and one of the three or four who denounced not merely the League but the Treaties of Peace. With few exceptions he has visited more European capitals during the last two or three years than any of the European prime ministers or foreign ministers. Beyond question he knows more European public men than does and other American now in actlive public life. He did his part in dissuading the President from resubmitting the Treaty of Versailles and was one of the half dozen who forced the reservation on the Four Power Treaty.

In the same fashion that he met the unsatisfactory conditions of legislation emanating from the Finance Committee on revenue, McCormick in two or three instances organized groups of men who effectively modified legislation reported from the Agriculture Committee.

In addition, he is responsible to the Child Labor Committee for the movement to amend the Constitution to vest in Congress the power to limit or prohibit Child Labor.

NEW YORK, Sept. 17.—Stock markets displayed a somewhat steadier tone in rather dull transactions following the volume of trading below that of last week. Closing prices were shaded slightly from the day's prices and in numerous cases fell below the final quotations of Saturday. There was little in the news to influence traders. Bear traders accepted Premier Poincare's Sunday address as somewhat unfavorable to progress of the Ruhr negotiations. General shares were questioned by another cut in gasoline prices. Despite intermittent selling some stocks showed an advance.

Among the railroads, Northern Pacific and Union Pacific gained 1½ and Great Northern preferred
1½. Rock Island 7 per cent preferred, sagged 1½. Call money opened at 3 per cent. Eased later to 4½ per cent and closed at 4.
Time money rates stiffened
somewhat with the shorter loans commanding 5½ per cent and those of longer duration going at 5½ per cent. With the exception of demand sterling which held steady around $4.54, foreign exchange rates generally were lower. General shares were questioned by another cut in gasoline prices. Despite intermittent selling some stocks showed an
advance.

HAS OWN BROTHER PUT IN PRISON

Becomes Known Thru Action of State Division of Pardons and Paroles — Guilty Man is Now
Where he Belongs.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.— (By the
A. P.)—Behind the gray stone walls of Chester, Ill., penitentiary, an innocent man, without indictment or trial, for over four months has been suffering, under protest, the fate of a convicted criminal, the victim of a remarkable hoax perpetrated by his own brother on the sheriff of Union county.

This was revealed recently by the state division of pardons and paroles in announcing the release of Andrew Kerley from the prison and the simultaneous commitment of his brother, Frank Kerley, the real culprit. Out of the hundreds of cases of alleged mistaken identity coming before the pardon board yesterday, this is one of the few ever to be proved bona fide.

Almost a year ago, Frank Ker-
ley pleaded guilty at Jonesboro, Ill., to forgery and was sentenced to the penitentiary. He had forged a check payable to his brother Andrew. While waiting to be taken to prison, he escaped from jail.

All efforts to apprehend him failed and nothing was heard of him until months later, when Sheriff Henry G. Hileman of Union county found in his mail one morning a letter from his escaped prisoner.

The letter was signed "Frank Kerley." He wrote he had joined the army shortly after his escape from jail, that he had been arrested for some offense committed in the army and was being held in the guard house at Jefferson Barracks, near St. Louis, Mo.
His guard house sentence, he said would be completed in a few days and signified his willingness to serve time for the forgery committed in Union county if the sheriff would come to Jefferson Barracks and take him back. He stated, however, that he had joined the army under the assumed name of "Andrew Kerley" and was known at Jefferson Barracks
by that name.

The sheriff confirmed these facts by corresponding with the commanding officers at the barracks and then sent a deputy sheriff over to get the prisoner.
When the deputy arrived the soldier protested he was not the prisoner Kerley and in fact Andrew Kerley and not Frank.

Put Prisoner in Chester.
The deputy, however, had the commitment papers for the man and could do nothing but take the man back to Illinois. It happens that Chester is on the direct route to Jonesboro, so instead of taking his prisoner back to Union county, he stopped at Chester on the return trip and delivered him to the penitentiary. The man was received at the penitentiary as Frank Kerley, alias "Andrew Kerley."

The deputy who delivered him to the prison authorities was not in Union county at time Frank Kerley was sentenced and was not acquainted with either of the Kerley brothers. The brothers look very much alike, although Frank, the real convict is about 21 and Andrew, the innocent man is 26.

After studying the matter over for two months in prison, the man delivered there as Frank Kerley asked for an interview with Warden Edward P. Rertie.
He laid his case before the warden in such convincing terms that Mr. Rertie immediately began an investigation.

Two months later, principally thru the efforts of M. T. Marby, state parole agent located at Mt.
Vernon, Ill., the real Frank Kerley was located near Elmo, Mo., where the mother of the boy resides.

The investigation showed that Frank, knowing his brother Andrew was in the army and was about to be released, told the army authorities he was wanted in Illinois, and then, procuring by some means a sheet of official army paper, wrote to Sheriff Hileman the letter which brought the innocent Andrew to the penitentiary.

The two brothers met only once and that was for one dramatic moment just as Andrew was being relieved of his prison clothes at the penitentiary clothing house and Frank, entering the prison, was donning his convict garb. At that time Andrew was under the impression that Frank had voluntarily surrendered himself upon hearing that the innocent man had been incarcerated. Andrew shook hands with Frank, congratulated him and advised him to behave himself.
That was all. The brothers then parted. Andrew told the prison authorities he had a girl in Cypress, Ill., and was going there immediately to marry her.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Bartelheim and sons were transacting business in Jacksonville yesterday.

Remember last winter? A lot of $18-a-ton heat just circulated around the open basement. Also, a power of soot filtered up through the floor, onto the wallpaper and curtains. Stop all that loss and expense by ceiling the basement with Sheetrock — the different wallboard. It makes tightjointed, cold-proof, soundproof, dust-proof walls and ceilings—at low cost.

CORRELATION OF ALL TRAFFIC LAWS

Committee Headed by Rock Island
Man Is Seeking to Get Traffic Laws of State Uniform as Nearly as Possible

DANVILLE, Ill. (By the A.
P.)—Correlation of all the traffic laws in Illinois cities, is the work undertaken by a committee headed by R. E. Rhoades of Rock Island, whose appointment has just been announced here by Major E. C. Thornton of Danville, chairman of the Associated Club Secretaries of the Illinois
State Automobile association.

Appointment of the committee
followed a meeting in Chicago
where a general outline of a state traffic regulations and safety campaign was indorsed. Members of the committee on uniform traffic regulations, with Mr. Rhoades as follows: James A. Jones of Springfield; William F. Gibbs of Quincy; George A. Scott of Rockford, and Harry C. Wilhite of Alton.

They will have the co-operation of Major Thornton, the state chairman, and F. E. Ertzman of Chicago, the state secretary. It is the plan of these officers to have the first report of the committee ready for consideration by the Associated Club Secretaries

at a meeting in October, to be held in Alton.

At that time Major Thornton intends suggesting a statewide effort to educate school children of the necessity of heeding traffic signs on highways. "After all,"
the state chairman said, "safety is primarily a matter of education."

"Traffic warnings," Major Thornton said, "school children should be taught, should not be made targets for rocks and mud.
It is possible the father of a child who defaces these signs may sometimes stand in very great need of one of them, and without its warning might possibly pass on to injury or death by accident."

This sort of lesson will find a lodgement in the minds of school children, Major Thornton believes, and will thru them reach motorists and pedestrians hitherto unaffected by the "Cross Crossings Cautiously" signs.

Springfield, Ill. — Organized
physical training for school children here is the announced purpose of the appointment of Max Foscover, as physical director for the grade schools. The aim of the new movement, said Mr. Fos-cover, is to make good citizens, physically, which in turn will make them mentally fit.

"I believe in the motto, 'Catch

said.

WOMAN SO ILL COULDN'T WORK

Gained Strength, Weight, and Now Doing Own Work by Taking Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Marion, Ind.—"I was all run-down, nervous and bent over. I could hardly drag around, let alone do my work.
I read some letters in the papers
telling what Lydia
E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound
had done for other women and I thought I would try it. Then
I started my business and about six weeks ago I had done
her and wanted him to have me try it.
I took one bottle and could see what it did for me in a week's time, and when I had taken three bottles I had gained both in strength and weight and was doing my own work. I took it before my last baby was born and it helped me so much, I am glad to recommend the Vegetable Compound to any woman who suffers from female ailments, for I know by experience what it can do. I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash, also the Liver Pills, too, and thank them for me."—
Mrs. W. M. Elmore, 629 E. Grant Street,
Marion, Indiana.

A record of nearly fifty years service should convince you of the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Compound.
